POWERS STIRRED UP

The United States and Great Britain Have Taken Steps to Block Further Progress of Russia. Japan Falls in Line.

London, March 9.—A crisis has arisen in far eastern affairs which in the opinion of the British government, is graver almost than the troubles which originally turned the eyes of the world toward the orient. In this crisis secret negotiations are going on between the United States and Great Britain with a view of thwarting, what both governments appear to consider, a determined attempt on the part of Russia to plant herself permanently in one of the richest tracts of the Chinese empire. In the conference held between United States Ambassador Choate and Lord Lansdowne, the foreign secretery, Mr. Choate received from Lord Lansdowne an important message declaring that Great Britain was not satisfied with Russia's declaration regarding Manchuria as delivered to Sir Charles Stewart Scott, the British ambassdor at St. Petersburg, by Count Lamsdorf and asking the United States if they were prepared to take joint action of such a decisive nature that Russia would have no alternative but to recede from her position. Almost simultaneously the United States government instructed the various ambassadors to take similar

The answer of Secretary Hay has apparently not yet been received in London although the fact that almost concurrent instructions were issued from Washington is taken here to be a sufficient guarantee that Russia's action in Manchuria will not be tolerated by the United States.

Japan is relied upon to take a line of harmony with the United States and Anglo-German compact, is regarded as rather doubtful owing to Emperor William's friendship for the Czar. France of course will side with her ally.

The significance of the present phase can only be appreciated by those cog nizant of the lethargic attitude of the British government hitherto regarding Russian action in China. Within the last few days all this had changed. What a week or two ago was prounced only in line with Russia's usual policy is now termed "a grave and serious fair. state of affairs."

Lord Landsdowne is using every effort to bring the powers into line in order to present to Russia such a menacwithout any ambignity regarding temporary or other occupation she may give up all designs upon Man-

Atwater's favorite subject in connection with food experiments, conducted in an airtight glass case known as the "respiration calorimeter," has just come out from his third and longest period of "imprisonment."

The first time he remained in the box in it for 9. This time he was sealed up on Feb. 25 and remained in 10 days.

The experiments now being conducted have to do with the food values of such articles of diet as one would naturally get at his club. They are much here today. A large number of distinwere made with foods containing a large proportion of carbo-hydrates, starchy foods, in short.

Want Prisoner Brought Back.

Corsicana, Tex., March 9.—A petition has been presented to the sheriff asking that John Henderson, who was arrested for the murder of Mrs. Younger, be brought here for preliminary trial. The petition is brief but pointed, and among other things recites that the negro should have his examining trial in order to determine whether he is the guilty man. The petition asserts that if he is not the man wanted his innothe search for the murderer may be resumed. As the matter now stands all for 30 years. The old man's relatives

Younger have been brought to a close since it became known that Henderson was arrested. The best people of Corsicana and Navarro county are worked up as they probably never were before.

A Waiter Addresses Students and They Believe Him Bryan.

Buffalo, March 9 .- Posing as W. J. Bryan, Fred Fulcher, a waiter in the Ellicott club, addressed 50 students of the University of Buffalo. Not half a dozen of the students knew that they really did not listen to Mr. Bryan. A committee was appointed to escort Mr. Bryan from the Ellicott club if be would consent to address the students. Mr. Bryan had just left the club when the committee arrived. A waiter who was polishing a door knob and whose likeness to Mr. Bryan was striking, was prevailed upon to take the place of Mr. Bryan. With the aid of a slouch hat and an improvished make-up, he appeared before the students.

"Three cheers for William Jennings Bryan," shouted a young enthusiastic, and then there was vigorous applause.

The waiter said:

"I presume that you would like to have me speak regarding Rear Admiral Sampson's recent letter; of the speech made by Senator Morgan; of the Cuban policy. of my successful rival; of the Puerto Rican matter, but I cannot. I came here solely for business.

Delaware has not had a full representation in the United States senate since the expiration of ex-Senator Anthony Higgins' term in 1895. The other side cheered for Addicks at the same time and altogether the scene was one that has not been equalled here Colonel Murray of the Forty-third since the fight began in 1895. PETROLEUM IN TEXAS

An Oil Expert Believes its Future Is Important.

WILL ENTER MARKET

He Says the Oil Will Affect the Oil Markets of the World and Cause Industrial Activity Throughout the District.

Baltimore, March 9.-The prominence that petroleum is assuming in Texas and its bearing upon the mineral oil developments in this country and abroad has led the Manufacturers' Record to publish this week an exhaustive article on the subject written by Mr. C. F. Z. Caracristi, M. E., who has had wide experience as an expert in Europe. South America and the United States for European and American syndicates interested in oil. The article takes a broad view of the Texas field, deals with the special features of the petroleum business, and traces the progress made in that state since 1890.

Mr. Caracristi asserts that while California petroleum, like that of the Beaumont field in Texas, has an important mission to fulfil in the advancement of civilization, yet the light, illuminating oils of the Navarro county field extending to northern Texas are those that are to effect the great oil markets of the world. He says, furthermore, that the pipe line now being constructed between Port Arthur and Beaumont is merely a forerunner of a great system that will sweep through Texas from north to south and form the main artery of a vast industry that will transform that state into an empire of industrial activity, giving impulse to the spirit of the century-the spirit of commercial and industrial conquest that must, perforce, work its way southward from the Gulf of Mexico to the markets of neighboring countries, and that the importance of the Texas petroleum fields rests more on their proxmity to the seaboard than upon any other natural advantages.

"From the exploration practiced by prospectors." he says, "and my own personal investigation of the formation, I am fully convinced that the petroleum bearing field of Texas extends, with some structural interruption, from the Red river to the Gulf of Mexico, and that it is one of the most wonderful series of petroleum-bearing pools so far discovered in the United States. During my recent examination of the petroleum fields of the Pacific I found that activity pervaded every branch of the industry, and that in California the business had grown to such proportions as to warrant the organization of an oil MONROE EDGE LAND & RENTAL AGENT exchange. While the western fields each have their particular importance and merits as local propositions, the chemical composition of the oil and its geographical position precludes it from ever becoming a factor in the foreign markets.
